

SOC209 Gender Issues

Level: 2

Credit Units: 5 Credit Units

Language: ENGLISH

Presentation Pattern: EVERY JULY

Synopsis:

Gender Issues examines women's and men's roles and the position and status of women, in particular, in various aspects of social life. The course explores the reasons for the perpetuation of patriarchy in most societies and women's continued subordination to men. Women's experiences in different societies will be used to help students understand the different concepts, ideas and theories on the subject.

Gender is a dimension of social stratification in society. Gender theories explain why women experience inequality in different contexts. The differences between the concepts of sex and gender highlight the fundamental notion that while sex has its basis in biological differences between men and women, gender is a social construct (masculinity and femininity). The course also reviews the reasons for and representation of unequal gender relations in society and explores how gender relations operate locally as well as globally supported by a range of examples from different societies. The topics examined include: gender in the home and the workplace; women in the media; gender and politics; and gender and education. Throughout, the political, legislative, and social barriers confronting gender equality in different societies are examined.

Topics:

- Introduction: Theories of gender
- Gender Relations in the Family and the Household
- Gender and the Workplace
- Gender and Education
- The Political (Wo)man: Gender and Politics
- Gender and the Media: Reproduction of Gender Divisions

Textbooks:

Abott, P., Wallace, C. and M. Tyler: An Introduction to Sociology: Feminist Perspectives (eText) 3rd Edition (2005). London: Routledge.
ISBN-13: 9781134382446

Abott, P., Wallace, C. and M. Tyler: An Introduction to Sociology: Feminist Perspectives (eText) 3rd Edition (2005). London: Routledge.
ISBN-13: 9781134382446-AA

Learning Outcome:

- Demonstrate knowledge of the basic concepts, theories, current debates and methods covered in the sociology of gender
- Examine the political, social and cultural factors which influence and contribute to gender inequalities at the individual and societal levels
- Demonstrate how men and women across the world experience the various dimensions of life differently
- Discuss how gender is one of many factors of social inequality, the others being race/ethnicity, socioeconomic class, age and sexual orientation
- Analyse gender issues and strategies for equality in various sectors in society including the workplace and the economy, the family, education, politics and government, and the media
- Review policies and measures in addressing and eradicating gender inequalities

Assessment Strategies:

Continuous Assessment Component	Weightage (%)
TUTOR-MARKED ASSIGNMENT	25
TUTOR-MARKED ASSIGNMENT	25
Sub-Total	50

Examinable Component	Weightage (%)
Written Exam	50
Sub-Total	50

Weightage Total 100